WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.

. PCT/AU2004/001638

Box	No. I Basis of the opinion
1.	With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.
	This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language , which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2.	With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
٠.	a. type of material
	a sequence listing
	table(s) related to the sequence listing
	b. format of material
	in written format
	in computer readable form
	c. time of filing/furnishing contained in the international application as filed.
	filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
	furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.
3.	In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.

Claims 1-12

The invention of the claims is a modular catheter which includes an elongate tubular member having a proximal end and a closed, distal end with a lumen extending from the proximal end to the distal end and a plurality of electrodes arranged at, or adjacent, the distal end, conductors for the electrodes being contained within a wall of the tubular member, an elongate shape-imparting mechanism removably received within the lumen of the tubular member such that a distal end of the shape-imparting mechanism is substantially in register with the distal end of the tubular member, and a control device having a proximal end and a distal end, the proximal end of the tubular member and a proximal end of the shape-imparting mechanism being releasably connectable to the distal end of the control device.

The closest prior art of:

discloses a steerable ablation catheter system comprising an elongate tubular member (2) having a proximal end and a closed, distal end with a lumen extending from the proximal end to the distal end and a plurality of electrodes (8, 9) arranged at, or adjacent, the distal end, and a control device (5) having a proximal end and a distal end, the proximal end of the tubular member (2) being releasably connectable to the distal end of the control device (5) but fails to teach conductors (18, 27) for the electrodes (8, 9) being contained within a wall of the tubular member (2), or that an elongate shape-imparting mechanism (13, 26) is removably received within the lumen of the tubular member (9).
